

HOME ECONOMICS MUSIC ART

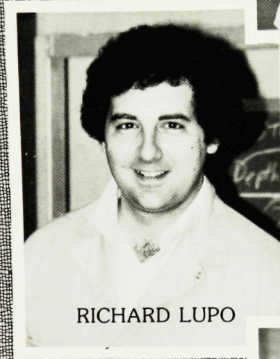

This industrious department offers courses concerning family and home management, child development, consumer education and culinary arts. Many students are enriched with practical concepts concerning the home with the aid of the department personnel. The Home Economics Department offers invaluable services to students teaching practical skills, but more importantly preparing them for a sound future and providing the basic concepts of home and family planning.

Annually, the Art Department strives to enrich the students' background concerning the many facets of art. There are many courses offered by this department in an effort to satisfy the above goal. Included in this spectrum are courses entitled Photography, Painting and Drawing, and Two Dimensional Design. The results concerning the efforts of this line department are often reflected in the students' artwork on display.

A continuing source of pride for Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School is the Music Department. Through this fine department, the student's knowledge of various forms of music and vital performance techniques are augmented. This year, as always, the department provides a sense of pride and accomplishment for those involved through competition in which the Marching Band, Wind Ensemble, Orchestra and Moonglowers have consistently received ratings of "Excellent" and "Superior" from accredited judges.
