

we may not yet be exactly sure
Where we're heading.
But at least we're going to start out.
We've at long last earned our independence,
We're taking control of our destinies.
We've gotten one step closer to Figuring out who we are
And what we want.
So now,
Armed with our dreams,
We'll leave all this behind us,
And see if we can find out there
The magic
That adulthood has to offer.
