

Academics

Academics play a major in your high school experience. The knowledge you receive and the effort with which you apply it will have considerable impact upon your future. Every time you strive and perform well, you increase your chances for a better future. And when you perform poorly, or take success for granted, you lessen your chances for the realization of your desires. Your mind is your own. Dare to be great! You have so little to risk, if you do . . .
