

BEYOND THE WA::

While here, students are often fascinated by the outside world and its happenings.

It has been quite a year!

While an American rock star entertained thousands in Russia, our President and the Soviet Premier teased the world with thoughts of nuclear peace.

Nobody really exciting wanted to be President in 1989.

Boyfriends were very reluctant to take their girlfriends to see the film, "Fatal Attraction."

Wall Street crashed again.

The Twins won, the Devils improved, but the Giants struggled.

The football players went on strike again.

Calgary? Seoul?? Well, why not?

Friendly? Honest? Centrist in viewpoint? Pure of heart? Apply: US Supreme Court, Washington, DC.

And a bull terrier became the best-known national spokesperson for beer.

Whether it was the world series, the Presidential elections, or the Winter Olympics, students paid very close attention.

Maybe, just maybe, some wished that they were in Calgary instead of period 10 English . . .
