

PRISON?

You gotta be kidding!
How can anyone in his or her right mind refer to this place as a prison? It's a high school. An institution of higher learning.

Why, in prison, a person has virtually no rights at all! You can't go anywhere without written permission or a chaperone. You can't listen to music when you want to. You can't even go to the bathroom when you want to.

Bells and Alarms! Bells and Alarms! You can't do a thing without bells and alarms in a prison. You can't leave a room without first hearing a bell. You can't go to the bathroom before hearing a bell. You can't get any sunshine or "recreation" without first hearing a bell or alarm. THAT'S what prison is all about!
