

Dedicated Service

Dr. Howlett came to Scotch Plains-Fanwood district in 1978. When he arrived in our district, he took up residence in Muir School, which was then the district's Administrative Office. At once he noticed a variety of the district's many needs, and immediately set to work. Dr. Howlett addressed supervision and curriculum voids, and also took up the responsibility of keeping all staff members current and vibrant in their work. He worked diligently on securing the district financially, and also strived to make a true partnership between the community and the schools. Dr. Howlett began the Delphi team and the student Leadership Conference, which are still strong in our school today.

Dr. Howlett redistricted the schools and even closed a few. He brought the AFJROTC program to the high school, and recently has launched multi-educational education practices. Dr. Howlett appreciates the diversity in our community and this is shown through his numerous efforts.

In his retirement, Dr. Howlett wants to "devote more time to the journey within," and adds, "for out of what one has inside, one can give." Over the past fifteen years, Dr. Howlett has given a lot of himself to the district and children. We thank Dr. Howlett for his time and efforts, and wish him well in all he chooses to pursue.
