

MARCHING TO

In many ways this year was one of the most successful seasons ever. The season began with the annual summer band camp. There the new members learned the drills and the entire band became a cohesive unit. Many practices were held throughout the fall enabling the band to create the best performance possible. Sporting their new uniforms, the SPF Raider Marching Band placed third at the Giant Stadium, scoring a 90, and won best overall band at the J.P. Stevens Invitational. This year, the field show was entitled the 'Sights and Sounds of Africa', led by band president/Drum Captain, Eddie Jackson, as well as Drum Major(ette)s Jessica Biegelson, Gary Fletcher, and Kathleen DeLuca. All the hard work and dedication the marching band members exhibited this year really paid off. The Raiders shared something magical on the field this season that will be celebrated and hopefully repeated in the years to come.

The Scotch Plains-Fanwood Marching Band performs with enthusiasm to an away crowd.

A group of marching band and flag squad members take a break from their performing to relax during a home football game.

Preparing for his guitar solo, Ian Wehrle intently tunes his guitar while waiting for his moment to shine.

