

PAJAMA DAY

Jammie Day... the comfiest day of the year!!

Everyone's least favorite thing to do in the morning is get up, shower, get dressed and ready for school. But on Pajama Day, no one minds! There are no worries about what to wear; students just roll out of bed and meander through the halls. Do not be fooled though, all the students are really awake on P.J. Day... or are they?

This awesome group of seniors pose comfortably in the hall while wearing their jammies. Everyone may love Pajama Day, but seniors are especially thrilled. This special day reminds seniors of their tradition of Dirtbag Friday, which takes place every Friday when the senior class dresses down to end the week in comfort and style! This is just another reason of why seniors especially go all out for Pajama Day.
