

A Day in the Life of a Freshman Building A New Foundation

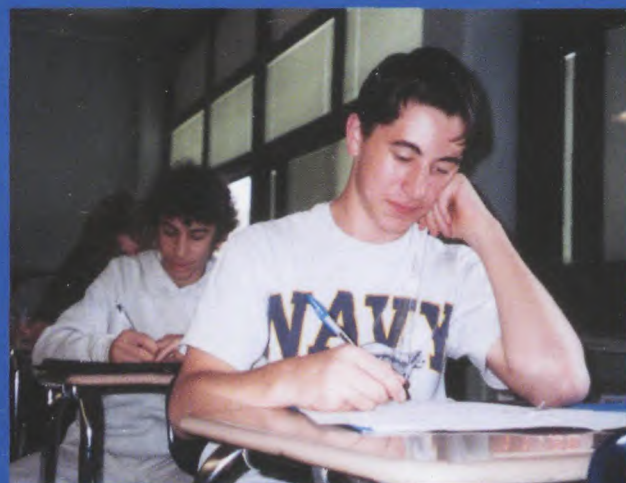

Freshman Joe Bacchi is enjoying the high school very much. He is keeping busy with DECA, wrestling, academics, and extracurricular activities. His life is so exciting that a member of our yearbook staff decided to follow him around for a whole day just to show the rest of SPFHS how cool this guy really is.

Right: Taking advantage of the fact that his brother is a senior, Joe hitches a ride with Chuck. Both may be zombie-eyed because of having to leave for school when it is still dark outside, but that's the price to pay to nail a spot in the senior parking lot!

Middle Left: No matter what's on Joe's schedule, he always finds time for his lady friends, Freshmen Dana Hankin and Lauren Wright.

Middle Right: When it comes to his school work, just as when it comes to the ladies, Joe always works his hardest.
