

A Day in the Life of a Senior Connecting Old Goals to the Future

Senior, Jackie Tumolo is a busy girl who is very involved in her high school. Jackie always has something to keep her active. Sometimes she's here in school from 7:00 in the morning until 10:30 at night. Involved with Rep Theater, Color Guard, gymnastics, or any of the other things Jackie enjoys. Obviously, she has developed expert skills in managing her time.

Right: During the SGA blood drive, Jackie finds the time to catch up with friend Senior Adam Corbin.

Below: Jackie always works diligently at her school work, especially in the mornings after she's had a late night of school activities.

Left: Jackie may be rushing around after school to get in all her extra curricular activities, but she manages to have time to stop in at an Italian Club meeting.

Above: Finally time for a little homework, with phone and TV mixed in that is, to finish up the night.

Center left: As the day winds down, Jackie finds the time to practice her song for the next show.

Left: Then it's time to keep up with all those gymnastics moves.
