

Seniors

Remembering our Lasts...

As we seniors walk down the halls of Spiffy high for the last time, what will we be thinking? Maybe about the endless amount of homework we've done or about all our preparation for college. Perhaps we will reminisce about the football games and sports events we have attended or all the times we had to find a friend with extra sneakers for gym class. Whether it is thinking about the last time we took the SATS or our last dance at prom, all the memories we have made will stay with us seniors forever. High school is the one time in life we can sit in the same class with someone we have known for over ten years. It is comforting to come to school and see our friends sitting in front of the same lockers, doing homework, and drinking coffee, knowing we had to get up just as early as we did to get a spot in the senior parking lot. When it is our turn to leave the halls we know so well, we may not share the same nights out with the gang, and the next time we see each other may not be until our homecoming, but we will always have the memories we have made here at Spiffy High.

Below: "This is our last time sitting in the morning with all our friends."

-Laura Manziano and Jackie Tumolo

Below center: "This is my last time rushing to get my homework done during lunch."

-Jill Prefach

Above: "This is our last time we have to walk to class together."

-Ryan Aspell and Elaine Shea

Above: "This is my last time stressing out for the SATs."

-Tamie Walker

Right: "This is our last time shoving all our stuff into one locker."

-Kristin Schardien, Lauren McManus, and Kyla Mendes

Far Right: "This is the last time I can wear a Hawaiiin Shirt without getting made fun of."

-Brian Kopnicki

