

she loaves it!

Junior Kristina Fridy sells a monstrous pastry at Panera Bread in Watchung. "A loaf of bread in every arm makes for easy money; it also never gets boring," claimed Fridy.

call waiting

Senior Melissa Sette diligently takes the calls for take-out orders at one of many exclusive restaurants in Westfield, the Northside Trattoria. "No mess to clean up, semi-formal-casual dress, the [employees] are awesome, and so is my salary," explained Sette.

man-i-can

Senior Kristin Dyson stylishly dresses the Mande store mannequin in Watchung. "I like working, but it's hard; I won't lie. Dressing that mannequin is no joke," said Dyson.

work out plan

"In terms of selling items, shoes are my specialty here [Soccer Post]...It's just what I do."
junior Brett Jones

"It's very relaxing here [Sacred Spaces Yoga Center]. There are many drinks to make and a lot of items to play with."
senior Ricky Lisojo
