Rumble... the sound of a stomach in need of food! Problem solved- a trip to any one of the area's eateries. Starbucks, The Macaroni Grill, Alfonso's, The Scotchwood Diner, Cheeburger Cheeburger, Sun Tavern, The Cheesecake Factory, and Fujiyama Mama prevailed as the frequently-visited local restaurants.

“I love Cheeburger Cheeburger”

The reason for the popularity of these establishments was evident in every way, from the appealing selections to the engaging atmosphere; from the location to the service.

Juniors Alana Rosato and Allie Brown enjoy tasty french fries and milkshakes at the Scotchwood Diner in Scotch Plains. The diner was known as a popular hangout spot with inexpensive but quality meals. No matter what time of day, students were found chowing down. “Whenever I get a craving for french fries, I call up my friends, and we head to the diner!” commented Rosato.

Out to celebrate Brittany Kane's seventeenth birthday, juniors Brittany Kane, Laurel Devlin, Colleen LaForge, Rachel Levy, and Angela Smith anticipate a famed selection of food in Menlo Park. Levy was so baffled by the extensive variety of choices that when the food arrived, she cried, “I don't think I can eat all of this!”
