the legend lives!

Senior Brian Halpin’s 2003 Ford Mustang gleams as it sits between senior Rich Kickenweitz’s 1992 Mustang and senior Mike Walker’s 1988 version of the popular American muscle car. All three were very willing to display their prized sports cars and discuss the various luxuries of each one. “A pimped out ride is a car that’s fast, but still has looks to back it up. A good paint job is always key. Rice burners are not pimp rides,” shared Halpin.

Students revved their engines and pulled up to school in style with some very cool cars. From the old to the new, from SUV’s to sedans; no style was excluded. Pimpin’ cars were not only valued for their luxury or as a way to get from point A to point B; they were also a means of self-expression. As cars became increasingly customized, the personalities of

As they show off their strikingly similar Volkswagen Jetta’s, seniors Megan Domenick and Chris Cooper find time to strike a pose. Even though the cars were different colors and styles, they shared the same popular characteristics that made the Jetta a worldwide favorite. “People always tell me that if I were a car, I would be my red Volkswagen Jetta,” explained Domenick.
