The 2006 Culmen, volume 65, is the third all-color yearbook of Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School. The 800 copies of the 328-page yearbook were printed by Jostens Publishing Company at their State College, Pennsylvania facility. The pages were designed and created by members of the photo journalism class using twenty-four Dell Computers with Adobe InDesign CS, Adobe Photoshop CS, and Jostens Yeartech. Photographs were taken digitally and conventionally by Normandy Studios of Plainfield, NJ, and by members of the yearbook staff. The cover was designed with the help of Rick Brooks. This year marks the second time that the book was sold via purchaseyouryearbook.com, in addition to direct sales from the Culmen business staff. Bonnie Blackman, our yearbook representative, was named the 2005 recipient of the CSPA Golden Key Award. Thank you: to Dr. Choye and the Board of Education for giving us the tools to reach our dreams; to Dr. Heisey for doing everything in your power to aid our efforts; to Mr. Braun for unlocking doors for us, both literally and figuratively; to Mrs. Senff for donating countless hours and the occasional proofread to us; to Ms. Nardiello for giving us so much of her time that she is considered part of the staff, and for always responding to our needs with a smile; to Ms. Wagner and Ms. Birkett for allowing various staff members to leave your classes, helping us gather the information we needed, and allowing your classrooms to become extensions of the yearbook room; to Jonathan and the Tech Department for being available at any moment's notice to fix any problem we have, from missing files to upside down computers; to Mrs. Christopher for sharing your room with us and understanding the staff's and Mrs. Weigel's needs, your unwavering hospitality was greatly appreciated; to Mrs. Weigel's chiropractor Dr. Jim for keeping her physically and mentally aligned; to Bonnie Blackman for your constructive criticism, knack for problem solving, and timely arrivals, you dared us to dream; to Mrs. Moskal, Mrs. McCormack, and Mrs. Taylor for having the answer to our every question and accommodating our every need; to Rona Maykish in Data Processing for keeping us in touch with every student, by homeroom or last name; to our plant consultant Holly Treaster for responding to every e-mail and phone call with a pleasant tone, no matter how late our pages were; to Carlos Alonso for making all the copies we needed, no matter how short the notice was; to Paul, Tim, Frank, and all of Normandy Studios for making our year picture perfect; to Mrs. Brand, Mrs. Hoffman, and The Fanscotian staff for giving us your time, to the entire faculty for allowing students to be interviewed and photographed during valuable class time; sharing your pictures, and your invaluable input, you were the best neighbors we could have hoped for; to the Custodians for tolerating our messes, no matter if it was 3 pm or 3 am; to Bill Weigel and Tom Whitty for giving us your wives and sacrificing your cell phone minutes; to family and friends for understanding all of our last-minute late-nights; to Mrs. Whitty for giving us your careful eye and your life, and sacrificing your mental health, spinning, and pilates; to Mrs. Weigel for giving your life to let this book reach the next level, and refusing to accept the easy way out; to both our advisers: words cannot describe our debt to you, countless late nights blur the line between teachers and friends, and you were the best friends we could have asked for; to the Class of 2006 for being the most cooperative senior class we could have hoped for, time and time again you responded to our ever need with courtesy and respect, it is because of you this yearbook is what it is. Editors-in-chief Neil Dalal and Dave Ginsberg, business editor-in-chief Amira Selim, editors Megan Domenick, Emily Lange, Danielle Koch, Melissa Koerner, Jon Greenspan; staff members Natasha Johnstone, Martin Njorge, Aileen Drum, Helen Han, Jake Parisi, Lisa Bloom, Nina Williams, Ashley Owens, Diana Chaves, Laurel Devlin, Catherine Kaiserman, Alex Resnick, Nehemiah Burney-Porter, there are no words to express the pride and affection we feel for each and every one of you. You have taken this book to levels that surprise only those who don't know you; you have demonstrated both responsibility and creativity far beyond what should be possible for your ages. To our departing seniors: know that part of us goes with each of you as you continue to raise the bar, achieve above and beyond everyone's expectations, and dazzle the world with your brilliance. This is your time; make the most of every moment.
